Specialty Practice Groups

The SPD operates several Specialty Practice Groups focusing on complex legal practice areas. The groups are a great resource for private attorneys working SPD cases in certain practice areas.

Each practice group is led by a coordinator or coordinators ready to advise, mentor, or otherwise share their expertise. Each coordinator pulls together practice materials, including motions, briefs, transcripts, case outlines, and research/articles/studies to share with practitioners.

For more information, visit the Legal Resources section of the SPD website: http://wispd.org/index.php/legal-resources

A Message from the Wisconsin Lawyers Assistance Program (WisLAP)

The New Year is coming and you may be setting personal and professional goals for 2018. Dr. Christine L. Carter Ph.D., suggests setting larger goals then breaking them down into progressively smaller goals you can complete day-to-day. Also, keep a positive frame of mind when things don't go your way. Most likely, you will implement your New Year's goals with a plan you believe maximizes your chances of success. You're a lawyer and lawyering is all about results. Keep in mind you cannot foresee all factors which may influence the results of your decision. Unanticipated and uncontrollable factors will inevitably come up, but it doesn't mean you made a “bad decision.” Reframe any setbacks as chances to revise your decision-making process in light of what you have learned. Check-out these articles. They may help you plan, implement, and achieve your 2018 New Year’s goals.
